

17th Annual Eastern Elk Management Workshop

April 22-25, 2012 • Gaylord, Michigan

“Managing Elk on Private and Public Land”

January 17, 2012

Dear Colleagues,

We would like to invite you to the 17th Annual Eastern Elk Management Workshop April 22-25, 2012 at the Treetops Resort in Gaylord, Michigan.

Gaylord is located in the northern Lower Peninsula of Michigan and is about 60 miles from the Cherry Capital Airport in Traverse City or 130 miles from MBS International Airport in Freeland.

The theme of this year’s meeting is “Managing Elk on Private and Public Land.” The itinerary includes an informal social gathering on Sunday evening and technical sessions on Monday and Wednesday. There will be a field trip on Tuesday for those interested in visiting several areas managed for Elk.

Registration information is not available at this time, and will be forwarded when available. Stay tuned to the www.eemw.org website for updates.

In order to help fund next year’s meeting, monies are raised through an auction and given to next year’s host. Please send or bring any items that may be used for an auction to raise money for future meetings.

If you have questions or need special accommodations, contact Laurie Abel at (989) 732-3541 or AbelL2@michigan.gov.

In addition, our Spring Turkey season will be underway and the inland trout season opens April 28th. Visit our website for rules, regulations, and more hunting and fishing information www.michigan.gov/dnr

We look forward to seeing you in Michigan!
